

URL: <https://stvp.stanford.edu/blog/videos/communication>

Communication is greatly underemphasized in business schools today. Ideas are useless unless they can be effectively communicated, and a communicative style is an influential factor in creating a first impression. Communication skills are essential for every aspiring entrepreneur.

Transcript

English subtitles are not available for this media..