

URL: <https://stvp.stanford.edu/blog/videos/following-your-gut>

Set your sights high and go for it, says Davis. He encourages students who want to make a difference to believe and follow their dreams with grit and ingenuity.

Transcript

I'm sure you all feel something deep in your gut that you can make a difference.. You can do something great in the world somehow whether it would be through technology or through health or whatever your specialty is, probably a lot of technology here in the engineering department but you like you've got something that you've got great intellect, you had a strong upbringing, you're getting a great education here and you feel like there's something that you can do and I'll just say, "You're right." You can do it.. Believe it.. If you could fast forward 10 or 20 years down the road and then look back at yourself say, "Yeah, I'm going to do it." and then set your sights high and go for it.. It might sound like a lot of fluff but just with the grit and the ingenuity that this Valley is known for build on that and do it...